

Soul Marmi

— NATURAL STONE —

COMPANY PROFILE

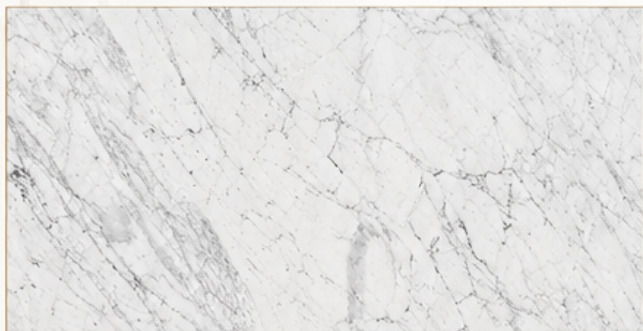

Soul Marmi is based in Carrara, Italy. The company exports a wide range of natural stones from Italy and around the world in block and slab form, as well as cut-to-size products tailored to specific project requirements.

With a strong focus on quality, reliability, and customer satisfaction, Soul Marmi provides solutions tailored to the needs of its clients across international markets.

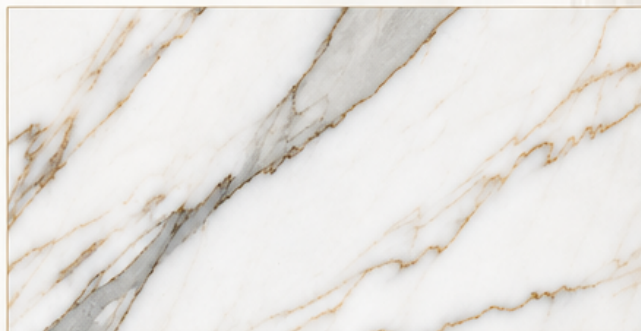

Combining Italy's long-standing natural stone tradition with an international approach to trade, Soul Marmi aims to provide natural stone solutions for a variety of applications, from architectural projects to interior design, while building long-term relationships with its business partners.
